One should first do more speaking in learning a foreign language. It is the groundwork of reading and writing. You'd better try your best to speak. Don't be afraid of making mistakes. While you are doing this, a good exercise is to write—keep diaries, write letters and so on. Many mistakes in your speaking will be easily found when you write. Through correcting the mistakes, you can do better in learning a language.

If you are slow in speaking, don't worry. One of the helpful ways to improve is by reading. The important thing is to choose something interesting to read. It mustn't be too difficult for you. When you are reading, don't stop to look up the words if you can guess their meanings or they are not important to the sentence.

A lot of people are afraid of bad dreams. If you eat a large meal before going to bed, you may have bad dreams. If you go for a walk after dinner, you may have pleasant dreams. Bad dreams can be terrifying, but if you dream about death, it does not mean someone will die; it means your life will change for the better. If you are a lively person, you may have pleasant dreams. You may dream that you are meeting friends, or helping people. If you are a quiet person, your dreams may not be so pleasant. You may dream about things you cannot do or have in real life. Some dreams come true. Most dreams tell us something about the future, if we understand them.

What is your favorite kind of music? Do you like jazz, popular music, classical music, folk music, blues, or electronic music? In high school I took a course called music appreciation which I greatly enjoyed. It was not to learn how to play a specific instrument but to learn how to read and listen to music as an art form. We read stories about the life of many composers and the history of the musical instruments. Sometimes we listened to tapes at the language laboratory or at the concerts. Music is a universal language. A composer who cannot speak a single word of our language can make us feel joyful, peaceful and proud through his music.

No-garbage lunches. How much do students throw away after lunch? An environment club asks students to bring their lunches in bags that can be used again. Every week they will choose the classes that make the least garbage and praise them to the whole school.

No-car Day. On the No-car Day, nobody comes to school in a car—neither students nor teachers! Cars emit smoke to the air, so it's helpful for students to walk or ride a bike to school. Use the legs. It is lots of fun!

Mr. Jenkins is fifty years old. He has taught math in a middle school for twenty-six years. He works hard and always comes to his office on time. He hopes his students to be honest and he is strict with them. Some of his students become famous people, but they still remember him and often write to him. Of course the old man is proud of them.

This term Mr. Jenkins began to teach Grade Seven. Some of the new students have known about him, but the others didn't know him well. He told them how to be an honest person in the first class. Then he gave them several examples and said, "I hate telling a lie most."

Before class was over, he told all his students to finish Exercise 8 in Unit 1. The next morning, as soon as he got into the classroom, he asked, "Who has finished Exercise 8?"

A few students put up their hands. He shook his head and said, "Open your workbooks and see whether there's Exercise 8 in Unit 1 or not."

The students had a look at their books and their faces turned red at once.
